ON THE STUMP FOR HALL. Correspondence of the Gazette.

McKinney, Tex., June 13 .- Hon, H. C. Mack left this morning for Montague county. He will shell the woods of Montague, Grayson and Denton in the interest of Hon. R. M. Hall. He will advo-cate a moderate commission, such as was outlined by Governor Throckmorton and as is advocated by Mr. Hall. He will oppose the plenary power commission advocated by Mr. Hogg. Mr. Hogg's of-ficial acts, especially his connection with certain railway receiverships, together with his fallure to prosecute suits against watered stock and discriminations for which the law and constitution already provide will command attention. He will assert that Hogg is really not in favor of a commission amendment and will advocate the claims of R. M. Hall for governor and a strict Democratic organization. These are the known views of Mr. Mack, and will be a spley and mighty interesting contribution to the campaign literature. WANTED AT VERNON. VERNON, TEX., June 14, 1890

Editor Gazette. The element that now declares Hogg and railroad commission will set Texas back ten years, is the same identical element that set her back 100 years by the infernal lease system. Oh, consistency, where art thou to be found? art a "daisy" and we seeketh H. B. W. after thee. FINDLEY AND POTTER AT WHITESBORO

Correspondence of the Gazette. WHITESBORO, TEX., June 14.-Senstor Findley of Grayson county and C. L. Potter of Cooke opened the campaign here to-day for the office of state senator from the two counties, Potter claiming that the amendment and commission contients the main questions in the cam-

. He favored them both, with a commission of limited powers—one to "regulate," and not "control" railroads. He favored legislation on the road law amendment, to practically enforce. He thought a superintendent or overseer in each county, properly paid, would appropriate the funds raised, by low taxation, to the best advantage. He favored the passage of a law to compel delinquent politax payers to work out their taxes on the public roads. He claims that Cooke is entitled to the senator this term, but was willing to go fore the people on this subject. Senator Findley, while in the senate, voted to submit the railroad mmendment, and he was still standing asking for a commis-regulative or supervisory of powers. He also voted to submit the road law amendment and favored the necessary legislation to put it in operation-thought that the local theory was fair and just. He claims that Grayson is entitled to the senator this term, a difference of opinion between him and his opponent, th t will probably be carried through the campaign, to be settled only at the polls.

Both speakers claimed that the legislature had the power over the railroads, to regulate them properly, without the aid of the amendment.

There was present a very fair audience for the seasou and short notice given, and both gentlemen were listened to with strict attention. Neither speaker vouchsafed even a small pointer as to who was his best man for governor.

SPOKE AT LANCASTER. Special to the Gazette. LANCASTER, TEX., June 15 .- The Hon-Richard Morgan and Col. J. B. Simpson, both of Dallas, spoke here last night to an audience of probably 200 at the opening speech, but by 12:30 o'elock, when the discussion closed, not over forty persons were listening. The latter gentleman championed the cause of Mr. Hogg, while Mr. Morgan espoused the cause of the Hon. Gustave Cook, Not much interest was manifested, both speeches being but a rehash of the chestnut arguments, pro and con, on the commission question.

BOWIE COUNTY. Special to the Gazette. TEXARKANA, TEX., June 15 .- Whatever may be the causes at work, or the result of the campaign, there is certainly an upheaval of the political elements of this section and a zeal shown in the canvass for great and small candidates never known here before. The most remote beats and precincts are holding meetings, and forming clubs, as if the anivation of our country depended on the issues of the hour. On Friday night a great meeting of the Democracy was held at Wagnon's box, the most populous precinct in the county. Telling speeches were made by Hon. Dan T. Leary and Hon. R. L. Henry. It is said that there was only one anti-Hogg, anti-commission man on the ground. An enthusiastic meeting was held last night at the "Junction," five miles south of this city, where the same sentiment seemed to prevail. The Republican party have no comments to make, while the voices of those who from principle were anti-commission men were drowned in the shouts of Hogg's adherents. The fact is the few anti-commission men surrendered unconditionally early in the action, or as soon as it was known who was to be their flag bearers. The caliber of these guns was entirely too small for the size of the battle." FOR HOGG AND PENDLETON.

Correspondence of the Gazette LEXINGTON, TEX., June 14.—The Democratic primary by a unanimous vote instructed for Hogg and gave twothirds vote for Pendleton. The opposition to Pendleton have given in since investigating his record.

CLAY COUNTY.

Special to the Gazette. HENRIETTA, TEX., June 15 .- On the evening of 14th inst, the Hogg club met pursuant to call. The list contained 140 names. The club was then organized. F. J. Barrett was elected club corre spondent. Col. W. J. Swain, a member of the club, made an address of forty minutes. It was conservative in sentiment and in favor of the commission amendment and James S. Hogg for gov ernor. The address was well received. Hoge clubs are being organized in every voting precinct in the county. The primaries are called for June 28; the county convention for July 5. Present indica-Hogg and the commission by practically

Special to the Garette.

Hare, (Col. J. V. Bumusdaffer for Hare) spoke here yesterday to one of the largest audiences ever assembled in our city. Hare is hardly considered as in the race at this box. The "trouble" is between Randell and Balley, Randell slightly in the lead. Hou, H. C. Mack spoke here yesterday in the interest of Dick Hall, for governor. The general sentiment is that his speech made votes for Hogg. That railroad pass racket they are giving Hogg dosen't go up here

WACO AND M'LENNAN COUNTY.

Special to the Gazette. WACO, TEX., June 15 .- Politics in this county is at fever heat just now, and as the day approaches, June 21, for Attorney-General Hogg to speak in Waco, interest in the canvass increases and the opposing forces, auti and pro-commission, are chrystalizing, making it more apparent every day that the Hogg and commission element in the Democratic party is largely in the majority.

This much is conceded by the anti-Hogg men, but they claim that a change is coming about in their favor; that some opposition to the amendment has developed since Cook's candidacy was announced, will not admit of a doubt, but it is confined almost exclusively to business circles and to those whose conservatism prompt them to oppose any change in the organic law. The radicalism of the proposed amendment has been magnified to them by the personal opponents of Mr. Hogg, thinking that by prejudicing them against the amendment they would be influenced to change their preference from Hogg to Cook. But, notwithstanding this pressure which appeals to the selfish motives of those who are pecuniarily interested in the management or control of the commercial interests of the state, it is a common thing to find prominent, conservative business men who oppose the commission, but Hogg for governor. who favor farmers in McLennan county are almost unanimous for Hogg, and every attempt to east reflection upon him by the circulation of campaign stories regarding his official conduct only strengthens their confidence in him. Your reporter has talked with a number of the old reliable gentlemen "from the forks," and while occasionally one is met whose prejudice has been touched by the cry of nalism'' and kindred sophisms, in answer to the question as to how Hogg stauds 111 his invariably admits, munity he though sometimes hesitatingly, that the attorney-general is almost the unanimous choice of his neighbors.

Well, Hogg's appointment here is at night, but a great number of the farmers have expressed a determination to attend, and as a consequence the Demo-cratic campaign club committee is casting about for a suitable place to accommodate the large crowd expected on that occasion. There isn't a hall in the city which will seat over 800 people, and none of them are considered large enough for the meeting. All these evidences of Hogg's popularity taken into consideration and it is not surprising that some of his strongest opponents concede that this county will instruct for him at the primarie

THE PROPER KNOW WHAT THEY WANT. Special to the Gazette.

MESQUITE, TEX., June 15 .- The Democrats of the Housley precinct have orwith James Lyons, president, and I. H. Elder, secretary. The club is forty strong and will almost double its membership at the next meeting. This club, as is the case with other clubs organized in Dallas county, was organized by the Democrats of the precinct themselves without any effort by out side Hogg workers. There seems to be a disposition on the part of the anti-Hogz forces in this county to create the impression that only the Hogg side has been at work in the county, as appears from a statement in the correspondence to the Dallas News from this place, saying that the people here were anxious to hear the antithere has not been a Hogg speech made Then again Mr. of Dallas, in to-day's says that although Mr. Hall in to-day's News Kimbrough has organized Hogg clubs all over the county the people are not committed and want to hear the anti-Hogg side, when in fact Mr. Kimbrough has not been organizing Hogg clubs in Dallas county. The fact is the people are for Hogg, and are organizing mselves into clubs and preparing to make Hogg governor. Mr. Kimbrough is a strong supporter of Hogg, and has addressed one or two clubs and made some speeches outside the county, but as to his trying to commit the people to Hogg and a commission it is not the case. They are already committed, and the effort now being made by sending out young lawyers and school teachers to the rural listricts to try and work up a Cook-Hall following will be an utter failure. The people themselves know what they

Special to the Gazette, HOLLAND, Tex., June 15 .- A disturbance arese here yesterday in the Democratic primary convention, and after onsiderable wrangling and a futile effort to harmonize, another convention was organized by the original chairman, and both bodies elected delegates with similar instructions as to governor and lieutenant-governor, Hogg and Pendleton being instructed for unanimously The two factions have different instructions as to representative-one set of delegates being instructed for R. Y. King, the other for H. P. Robertson. The matter will be presented to the county convention for adjustment.

THE SITUATION AT ROCKWALL.

Editor Gazette: ROCKWALL, TEX., June 15, 1890. A recent special from this place to the Dallas News contains the startling (?) information that the Hogg and Cook forces are "about equally divided in Rockwall county," and by the time the primaries meet on the 28th instant, the Hogg men will be in the minerity. The News' correspondent's diseased imagination has caused him to overstep all bounds of reason and propriety, and his recent production falls barm lessly short of its real intentions when it is a recognized fact that this county is solid for Hogg and will send its delegates to the state convention instructed to vote for him first last and all the time. The News correspondent has obviously violated facts, but doubtless in obedience to "in structions from headquarters, '' he seeks to create the impression abroad that there is a "change of sentiment" in favor of Cook. The News man promised to correct his "special," but afterwards positively refused, hence this communi-ALBERT G. STUART.

SOLUTION OF THE RIVER NAVIGATION PROBLEM WHEREBY FORT WORTH WILL BE BENEFITTED AS WELL AS OTHER TOWNS ALONG THE CANAL

It Insures an Increase of Our Water Supply to a Capacity Enough to Supply a Five Hundred Thousand People .- Fall Land From Red to Trinity Rivers.

FORT WORTH, Tax., June 12, 1830. To the Gazette.

I enclose to you a rough map of this and other counties north of here and draw the plan for a solution of the river navigation problem, whereby Fort Worth will be benefited as well as other towns along the canal. You see I draw the line of the proposed canal from a point on Red river above Montague to a point on Trinity river within forty miles of Fort Worth. The canal will flow into the river proper and then leave the river after running into same for two or three miles, then clarifying the waters that flow from the Red river so that it can be used in this city for fire purposes and thus increasing our water supply to a capacity enough to supply a city of 500,000 people. The canal will be filled from the Red river, thus keeping the canal full at all times and the Trinity will assist at the point designated on map at ".A."

The ster which will flow from Red river will, by increasing the flow of the Trinity into the gulf, and decreasing the flow of Red river, and giving to farmers

One was controlled by those who supported Huling P. Robertson for representative, and the other by those who supported Mac T. Bush for the same office. Each meeting elected delegates to the county convention. There are two other precincts to be heard from, but whichever way they go it will not change the result.

SHE WAS MAD.

The "Castles In Air" Company Succeed in Photographing Their Star.

By the Aid of a Flash Light Miss Marlon Manola, Prima Dona, is Taken in Lavender Tights.

Special to the Gazette. New York, June 15 .- The management of "Castles in the Air" stole a march last night at the Broadway theater, with the aid of a photographic fiend and a flash light, on Miss Marion Manola, prima dona, who had refused to be photographed in her invender tights. As a result Miss Manola is very mad, and asserts her intention to leave the company. From the beginning of the second act, in which Miss Manola appears, it was apparent that she was very much worrled about something. There was a fascination for her in balcony box H, and one could see that she was furtively watching a man with a camera who was only partially concealed behind its curtains. It was thought the critical moment had arrived, when just before the cricket song, Miss Manola, in her part, tells Cabalastro that she can sing and has had an offer to go on the stage. Cabalastro replied: ''Don't do it; you'll have to be photographed in tights.'' It was a new gag, based upon the present trouble. The audience roured, but Miss Manola didn't seem to enjoy it, but she sang the cricket song clear through and left the stage. The people in front, many of whom had heard that a flash light would be used, were on tiptos of expectancy, and oy soon got the sensation they craved, but condemned. Miss Manola came on again in the latter part of the second act on the opposite side of the stage to the half concealed photographer. wolf Hopper, the dude, as he en-tered, said, "There is something familiar about her face." He had hardly uttered these words when there was a flash from the balcony box, and a big puff of smoke rolled up to the lofty ceiling of the theater. Many people hissed in concert. None cheered. As for Miss Manola, she fled from the stage at the first climpse she caught of the flash. It was several minutes before she returned and she looked anything but pleasant. Your reporter saw Miss Manola in her dressing room immediately after the curtain was rung down on the second act. She was mad, and emphasized what she said by stamping her foot. Mass Manola said: "Oh, but that was a mean trick. I had heard they were going to do it, and I saw the photographer with his apparatus in the box when I went in to-night, but I thought I could foil him. I thought he would attempt to take me while I was singing the cricket song, and I kept my closk about my limbs as much as possible, and much more than I had ever done before. As soon as I saw the man strike a match and apply it I threw my cloak up and in front of me, and then ran off the stage. Are you sure he got my ple-ture?" (This last with of despair).

Your reporter assured Miss Manola that he had seen the negative, lavender tights and all, and then in auswer to some pointed questions which was asked her she further said: "I will apply for an injunction to restrain the management from reproducing the picture. Failing in that I shall leave Mr. Hopper's company. will not be able to restrain me from singing in another company, even though they have a contract with me, after such shameful treatment as that."
